

Exercises on subqueries

1. Return all customers listed in the orders table who placed orders on the most recently recorded day.
2. For each sale of a particular product, list the quantity sold, the total sales of all products, and the percentage of total sales for that particular sale.
3. Return the list of companies that made purchases after the date 1/1/95
4. Return a list of customers who ordered more than 20 items of product number 23 on a single order
5. Return a list of products and the largest order ever placed for each product
6. Return a list of employees who received orders on 9/2/94